

A silhouette of a person with their arms raised in a celebratory gesture, standing against a vibrant sunset sky over a body of water. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm glow across the clouds and reflecting on the water. The person's hair is blowing in the wind, and their arms are raised high, reaching towards the sky. The overall mood is one of joy and triumph.

A Little Boost

—Poem by Walter E. Isenhour

Copyright © 2009 Tommy's Window. All Rights Reserved

A little push when the road is steep

A little prayer when the clouds hang low

A little lift when the load bears down

A little pull when the will slows down

A little clasp from a hand that's kind

A little word from a voice that's sweet

A little smile when the heart is sad

A loving word when the spirit droops

A little love for a soul that's lost

A little cheer and a
"God bless you"

A little deed from a Christian's heart

A little boost when the battle's hard

Do all the good you can.
By all the means you can.
In all the ways you can.
In all the places you can.
At all the times you can.
As long as ever you can!

— John Wesley (1703-1791)